Poetry.

Good as Gold.

Who shall judge him by his manners?
Who shall know him by his dress?
Paupers may be fit for princes,
Princes fit for something less,
Crumpled shirt and dirty jacket
May beclothe the golden ore,
Or the deepest thoughts and feelings—
Satin vest can do no more.

There are streams of crystal nectar
Ever flowing out of stone;
There are purple beds and golden,
Hidden, crushed, and overthrown.
God, who counts by souls, not dresses,
Loves and prospers you and me,
While he values thrones the highest,
But as pebbles in the sea.

Oft forgets his fellows then;
Masters, rulers, lords, remember
That your meanest hints are men!
Men of labor, men of feeling,
Men of thought and men of fame,
Claiming rights to golden sunshine
In a man's ennobling name.

There are foam-embroidered oceans,
There are little wood clad rills;
There are feeble, inch-high saplings,
There are cedars on the hills.
God, who counts by souls, not nations,
Loves and prospers you and me;
For to him all vain distinctions
Are as pebbles in the sea.

Toiling hands alone are builders
Of a nation's wealth and fame;
Titled laziness is pensioned,
Fed and fattened on the same,
By the sweet of other foreheads,
Living only to rejoice,
While the poor man's outraged freedom
Vainly lifts its feeble voice.

Truth and justice are eternal,
Born with loveliness and light;
Secret wrongs shall never prosper
While there is a sunny right.
God, whose world-wide voice is singing
Boundless love to you and me,
Heeds oppression, with its titles,
But as pebbles in the sea.

Selected Story.

So Like a Woman.

"Do you love her, uncle?"

"I am too old to indulge in the luxury of rhapsodies," he said with a laugh, "but I'll tell you this, Theo. I am very fond of the girl, and very well satisfied that you'll approve of my choice."

The speakers were Theodore Bligh and his uncle, the elder Mr. Bligh. The subject of the talk was a young girl, to whom the uncle was engaged, and to whom the nephew was a stranger: Madge Dundee, or Bonnie Dundee, as she was called.

"Well, uncles don't generally submit their choices in such matters to their nephews' judgments," Theo. Bligh said, recovering his normal expression of benignant indifference as he spoke, and then he added: "I hope with all my heart that you'll be happy."

"You will meet her to-night at dinner," Mr. Bligh said to Theo. "She is coming with her brothers and some friends of theirs to see her future home."

He did meet her that evening.

"I think Mr. Bligh has been rather nervous about introducing me to 'you,' Miss Dundee said, quickly making way for Theo. to take a seat on the sofa by her side; "he's more than half afraid that you won't like me, and if you don't it will make him very unhappy." So she spoke, in a girlish, almost childish outspoken way, without seeming to consider or to mark the effect of her words either on the man she addressed or on the bystanders. "I should have known you as Theo anywhere I'd seen you," she went on; "you'll be exactly like Mr. Bligh when you're——." She paused abruptly and colored a little, but a moment after she forced herself back into composure, and resumed, "when you're as old as he is, I was going to say, but I remembered that young men hate to be reminded of their youth, and so I bungled and blundered. Can you forgive me?"

Could he forgive her? Was the Bonnie Dundee subtle, or only sweetly simple, that she asked him this in that winning voice of hers? And, by the way, how did she, with her Scotch name, come with that touch of accent—that way of softly resting on the vowels that is a specialty of Irishwomen's pronunciation of words that they want to caress? As he asked himself this, he looked at her more observantly, and wondered also how she had come by that face and that expression.

In a remarkably short time the two became the most devoted friends.

Bonnie Dundee was not a mere insatiable coquette. She was not a heartless fool, ready to play fast and loose for the sake of gaining a little notoriety: but she was that even more dangerous thing, a woman afflicted with such a passion for pleasing that it became a fine art in her hands, and when she was following it she could not stay to count the cost of failings or success. It was a new sensation to her to have the right to such attentions, and admiration and love as Mr. Bligh lavished upon her, and as Theo offered at a respectful distance, on the score of being his uncle's nephew. It was a new sensation to her, and she enjoyed it to the full; reveling in it as one does in sunbeams after a long frost, or in dainty viands after a long fast. The idea of its being wrong or reprehensible in any way to gather these roses of love and youth and pleasure, that we e blooming in her path, never entered her mind. She was not false or fickle in reality, she was only intensely fond of the excitement of being put upon a pedestal, and being only worshiped in the sight of all men.

There came a day when it was revealed to her suddenly, so suddenly that it made her dizzy, and then she behaved—like a woman.

One morning, uncle, nephew, and Miss Dundee met.

"Theo has been talking this morning of leaving us soon: before he goes, dear, we must let him know what day he is to come back and hail you as an aunt." It cost Mr. Bligh more than a slight effort to make this speech with apparent ease, for during the last few days he had not been blind of sight. But he succeeded in doing so, and only he himself suspected the pain his own words gave him.

"Going? Theo going!" exclaimed Miss Dundee, lapsing from fun into surprised solemnity in a moment, and laying her whip with a frank caressing gesture on Theo's arm as she spoke.

"Oh, don't think of going, Theo; I can't spare you—we cant't spare him, can we?"

The men's eyes met for a moment as Madge spoke, and in that moment each read that the other knew all about it. "He knows I love her," poor Theo moaned in his heart, and "he sees I know it," Mr. Bligh thought, with not one whit less pain. And a silence fell on them, and in that silence Madge saw things clearly at last.

To recognize the love of one man in the presence of another man who has a right to feel jealous of it, is to be in a position of the greatest danger and delicacy and difficulty. Poor Madge flinched for the first moment, when she found herself in it, but the next instant she recovered herself, and, with the generosity of a woman, sought to put them well with one another without regard to herself.

"It was selfish of me to say I wouldn't spare you, for it must be dull for you here; out the fact is, Theo has spoilt me, just as my brothers do, and I have fallen into the way of ordering him about as I do them, forgetting he isn't a brother."

It was terribly trying work for them all, weighted with the discoveries they had recently made about each other. It became insupportable to Mr. Bligh after a short time, and so he sauntered out into the garden, and Theo and Madge were alone.

Her spirit rose with her sense of danger, as does that of all finely organized natures, and she turned to him bright and brave at once, though he had grown to be very dear to her, and though she knew that he was suffering horribly on her account. "It seems to me," she said, "that we're all very weak and wrong to let a shadow settle over the last visit you'll have with us, until I am an old married woman, with household cares on my shoulders, that will crush down my love of visits."

"This will be my last visit with you, Miss Dundee."

"Theo!" She threw such a world of reproachful tenderness into the tone in which she uttered that one word, that the man she addressed trembled visibly. His resolve, when spoken coldly and harshly, shocked and surprised her out of the brightly prudential tone she had fully intended to adopt. Why that Mr. Bligh gone away, leaving them the prey of this mischievous opportunity?

"Yes; for Heaven's sake don't speak to me in that way, or you'll drive me mad!" and then he got up and went to the window; and poor Madge saw that his face had grown very pale, and that an expression of hopelessness had settled upon it. She could not bear it. He had been so thoughtful for her always—so gentle, and devoted, and sympathetic—that she felt as if she must comfort him, let what might come of it.

"Theo," she said again, with that same pathetic cadence in her voice, "you have been so kind to me always; I can't bear to see you so. Can't I make you happier, Theo?"

He turned around quickly and caught her hands, as she was standing near to him.

"Madge, do you love my uncle?"

Half frightened, she drew back from him, and "I am engaged to him," she stammered.

"Yes, but you have made me love you; you know your choice, and you have used it. If you love him, let me go without another of those appeals that you know how to make so maddening; if not—Madge, Madge?"

He had taken her hands again, and was looking down into her face with a gleam of such intense pleading affection that for a moment he was the world to her.

"If I had known you first," she sobbed, "but I didn't, you see; and we Dundees never break our word. And—oh! you had better go after all; but forgive me!"

Forgive her. It was easy enough to say he would, and to make an end of this miserable scene, but it was very hard to do it. Had she not spoken his name with all her voice only a minute ago, leading him on by the tone she used to tell his secret to her in the hope that she would be brave, and avert eventful misery from them all? And now she was telling him that if she had known him first she would have loved him best, and that she could not for her name's sake break her word to his uncle!

It was a ghastly state of affairs, and as soon as he could, Theo Bligh made an end of it, by going away. The two men had no verbal explanation on leave-taking, but they parted as comrads who had been wounded in the same fight might part. And then Theo found that, though existence was not embittered to him, the savor had gone from the old pleasures.

It was decidedly not worth while now, he felt, to try and do anything good or definite; for he could never find a woman to share his glory or smile upon his success, who could put Bonnie Dundee out of his mind; after her other women did and would always appear to be wanting in something. She had the trick of making others appear tame, and pale, and insufficient, and—well, the man who has been shown upon by a star, never feels that there is much warmth in a taper.

He banished himself so effectually that he heard no tidings from the Chase for six months, and then he ventured to send his address to his banker, and to have letters forwarded to him; but before these letters are read, a retrospective glance at the Bonnie Dundee must be given.

She bore his departure very bravely. Remember how many other interests were claiming her attention at the time, and remember the ardent, impressionable, changeable nature of the girl. There was a good deal of the woman. She had the faculty of feeling intensely for the time, and of getting over things. Is not that last characteristic the secret of many women keeping right, and of many others going wrong?

It brushed the bloom of the peach roughly when he went away, for that vailed idolatry of his had been very pleasant to her; nevertheless she bore it bravely, and made the best of that which remained to her. "I am so sorry, for I was so fond of him," she said to her lover, with that disarming frankness which women of her calibre know so well how to use. And Mr. Bligh, hearing her, did not wonder that his nephew had been scorched by the fiery ordeal through which he had been passed.

There was this about it, too, that it was such clean fire that even her own sex could not despise and condemn and prophesy evil things concerning Miss Dundee's warmth. Just as she loved light and dancing, and flowers, and sweet sounds, so did she love to be loved; and though it made her dangerous, it never made her despicable. And some how men understood this, and so fostered her other foibles because of their gladness that she was free from greater ones.

It was only about a week before the day fixed for their marriage, that Mr. Bligh ventured to speak decisively to her. Very earnestly and gently he spoke, beseeching her to open all her heart to him, and to tell him if any other image had ever displaced his. And Madge listened to him thoughtfully, and analyzed her own emotions, and finally answered him.

"If he had come first, I should have loved Theo desperately; as it was, I didn't dare let myself. You're not afraid, are you?"

"Only for your happiness, my poor child," he said, "not for my own honor."

"I like you so much, you know," she said, energetically—"it does seem so hard that one can't express one's little gradations of feeling in words—I like you so much—but it's dark to me now without him," she added, with a sudden passion that carried her out of herself, and convinced him that she could never be his wife.

"He is the younger man—and—you are right." He tried to say it calmly, but it was an awful blow; and again, as the strength of his manhood was shaken, Madge wavered, and strove to comfort him.

"Let things go on and I shall forget him, or grow indifferent to him; I know myself—I shall live it down."

"You need not, poor child, for he loves you too."

"Yes, I know that," she answered with the reckless openness that made her what she was.

After that, so much of the world as knew the Bligh and Dundees had a fresh and delightful source of wonderment for a time. The marriage between the owner of the Chase and Madge was broken off, and still they were friendly; and still neither would listen to one word against or comment on the conduct of the other. Time would tell, people said sapiently, reserving their belief as to what time would tell to themselves.

Six months passed, and then Theo Bligh received those letters of which mention has been made. One was from Madge, and contained these words:

"Your uncle has promised to explain everything. I need only say that I shall always be your faithful friend, Madge Dundee."

The other was from his uncle, and contained a free forgiveness (this was only implied, not coarsely volunteered), and a full account. "Come back and win what I have lost, and as I love you as my son, so I will love her as my daughter." That was something like an invitation from a defeated to a successful lover!

Once more fate was against things righting themselves in the clear and good way that was made so open. Theo had by this time taken a situation in a mercantile house in New York—a situation of trust, which he could not hastily quit, or place another man in rashly. Great interests were involved in it, which he could not endanger by his absence for a year at least. But life was bright to him again, and he bore the delay bravely, having illimitable faith in the girl he loved and in himself. Had she not gallantly won this faith, by avowing her love for him, and losing the richer man and the better position by the avowel? Had she not, of her own free will, written to him those few sweet words of promise? Small wonder that he could live contentedly through the present, when such a future loomed before him.

At last he was free—free to go home and win his bride, and obtain personal absolution from his uncle for those sins which love had made him commit. Fate favored him now. The steamer was a fast one, and in a fortnight he was down at the Chase, grasping his uncle's hand.

"And now you know what my next move will be," he said, when the greetings were over, subduing his own gladness as much as he could, out of respect for the sorrow by which his uncle had bought it. "What is the matter?" he added in alarm, seeing a change in the kind, cordial face that was bent on him. "You know I have come to ask her to be my wife."

"I have borne an awful grief and disappointment, but I'd bear it again rather than have to tell this to you, my boy. You have stayed too long."

"Good heaven? is she dead?"

"Not dead, but as lost to you as if she were; and you must go back, and she must never hear you have come, or she will be true to herself, pitiful and over kind, and—like a woman generally, shall I say? She is married, you have stayed too long."

It did not kill him, and it did not send him to the bad, a convenient locality to which fiction-writers frequently consign their jilted heroes. But it dulled his life, and robbed him of his belief in the goodness and fidelity of women.

Notwithstanding which he forgave her, and was friendly with her in the after years; and though her fickleness had earned his contempt, he never paid the debt. And so poetical justice was not awarded to the "flagrant flirt" Bonnie Dundee, who would have been a better woman if she had not been so thorough a one.

Miscellaneous.

Died Suddenly of Heart Disease.

How common is the announcement. Thousands are suddenly swept into eternity by this fatal malady. This disease generally has its origin in impure blood filled with irritating, poisonous materials, which, circulating through the heart, irritate its delicate tissues. Though the irritation may at first be only slight, producing a little palpitation or irrgular action, yet by and by the disease becomes firmly seated, and inflamation or hypertrophy, or thickening of the lining membrane or of the valves, is produced. How wise to give early attention to a case of this kind. Unnatural throbbing or pain in the region of the heart should admonish one that all is not right, and if you would preserve it from further disease, you must help it to beat rightly by the use of such a remedy as shall remove the cause of the trouble. Use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery before the disease has become too seated, and it will by, its great blood purifying and wonderful regulating properties, effect a perfect cure. It contains medicinal properties which act specifically upon the tissues of the heart, bringing about a healthy action. Sold by all first-class druggists.

Bayard Taylor once called on Humboldt. The venerable Baron met him cordially, saying as he did so, "You have traveled much, Mr. Taylor, and seen many ruins, now you see another." "Not a ruin," replied Taylor, "but a pyramid."

A committee to provide for the erection of a monument to the memory of Joseph Mazzini has been organized in Italy with Garibalda as President.

April.

A Northern exchange pays the following beautiful apostrophe to April. The grand Hymn of the Waters may be heard rising from the earth with more of fulness and power, during the month of April, than at any other period of the year. Those gracious showers of April, falling so gently upon the young grass and the tender flowers of Spring, giving strength to the bud and blossom, bathing the limbs of the old trees, and feeding with sap the hearts of ancient oak and chesnuts—they have a vast work to forward, a grand purpose to carry out. They soften the last lingering snow bank in the highland forest: they melt the last ice on the mountain lake; they fill to overflowing all the many springs of hill and valley; they wash the mossy old rocks with trickling rills; they send all brooks in the land laughing and dancing on their way; they feed the proudest rivers; they help to nourish the broadest seas. At other seasons there are brooks and torrents and rivers which run feebly through their channels, but in the month of April their fountains are all full to overflowing. And, connected with this untold wealth of the waters, there is a noble harmony, there are sweet melodies, of which the ear of man can never weary. We all listen with charmed attention to the voice of the waters, so varied in power and in tone, yet always soothing, always impressive. Every falling drop has its gentle whisper. Every spring has its loving, murmuring ripple. Every brook has its cheery song. Every torrent has its powerful bass; every cascade has its varying musical cadences; every cataract has its grand thunders. There is a narrow valley in Switzerland—the valley of Dauterbrunnen—into which twenty different cascades are forever falling; the chamois hunter or the cowherd, as he climbs the mountain side, after reaching an elevation of two thousand feet, if he pause on the edge of the precipice and bend his ear to listen, may hear the blended murmur of all those streams. So angles, while passing to and fro on errands of heavenly mercy and wisdom, may pause to listen to the noble Hymn of the Waters, rising grandly from the earth with every returning Easter noon.

Conversation.

Conversational power is a gift of birth. It is some men's nature to talk. Words flow out incessantly, like drops from a spring in the hill-side—not because they are solicited, but because pushed out by an inward force that will not let them be still. From this extreme there is every degree of modification until we come to the opposite extreme, in which men seem almost unable, certainly unwilling, to utter their thoughts. Some men are poor in simple language. They have thoughts enough, but the symbols of thought—words—refuse to present themselves, or come singly and stingily. Others are silent from the stricture of secretiveness. Others are cautious, and look before they speak, and before they are ready the occasion has passed.

In regard to language itself, the habit of reading pure English, and of employing it every day, is the best drill for a good talker. People always act more naturally in their every day clothes than they do when dressed up for Sunday; and the reason is, that they are unconscious in the one case and self-conscious in the other. It is so in speech. If one allows himself to talk coarsely and vulgarly every day and out of company, he will most assuredly find it not easy to talk well in company.

Habit is stronger than intention, and somewhere the common run of speech will break through and betray you. To converse well at some times requires that you shall converse well at all times. Avoid on the one side vulgarism, all street colloquialisms, even when they are not vicious; for by-words and slang sentences

National Republican Convention.

THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN CONVENTION will be held in Philadelphia, on the 5th day of June, 1872, to didates for President and Vice e United States.

WHO OUGHT TO BE MAYOR!

C. W. GRANDY is the regular Republican nominee. He is an earnest and consistent Republican and has served the party faithfully. His services entitle him to some recognition at the hands of his friends.

Gov. W. W. Holden cannot, with any show of reason, aim to be the nominee of the Republican meeting which placed his name before the people was not called or authorized to be called by any member of the Executive Committee. By claiming the nomination at the hands of the night meeting, he admits that he was beaten in the regular meeting.

Besides all this Mr. Conn now holds four offices. He is Mayor, Justice of the Peace, Notary Public and Deputy Collector of this Port. Why should he claim all the offices in the county? And when the friends of some other gentleman demand for him a place why does Mr. Conn attempt to break up the party rather than let one of his FOUR offices go into the hands of some other good Republican? Is there any fairness, or magnanimity, or justice in demanding everything for himself? Ought not such arrogance to be rebuked by the fair minded voters of Elizabeth City?

THE POLITICAL REFORMERS.

That there is work enough in this world for reformers is true. That they are always wanted in public life is also a fact. But the men who carry into the political arena the standard of reform should wear no smirched commission. Ordinarily their cause should plead for them, and they would be unsuitable for resting their claims to attention upon their character alone. But if they urge other considerations, these should be honorable.

We have reference to the political scamps who call themselves "Liberal Republicans." Their avowed mission is a warfare with the corruptions of politics. And yet it is apparent that this warfare is an instance of political corruption. They arraign the Republican party as hopelessly depraved. And yet it is well known that this arrangement is itself inspired by depravity.

These "political reformers" declare that a great popular party of over three millions of voters has lost the power of self-direction, and become dominated by patronage and power. They therefore call upon these voters to rally around them, as the sole hope of restoring honest affairs. This is taking lofty ground, and issuing a challenge bold, indeed. Those who assume this attitude should not complain if their discretion and motives were distrusted, nor even if a severer inquiry were made into their motives. But it is not intrinsically believable that three millions of voters have become excitated for acting as they wish through their own organization of primaries, State Conventions and National Conventions. But if, despite this incredibility, a standard of special purity is erected in the sublime name of Reform, people are summoned to its defence, the summoners should be clean. Now what are the facts? Here in North Carolina the "Liberal Republican" numbers—not a corporals guard—are these, every one, are defeated office holders and bummers that have been hanging around the Republican camp. In some other States the number is composed of political adventurers, devoid of honest principles who are engaging in the movement hoping to advance their own selfish ends. As for the leaders—who are they? Men who have been disappointed, men who have been failed in their schemes, men who were no longer able to dictate and rule. They want their revenge. These are the men who appeal to the country about purity, virtue and reform.

Republican ascendency can only be maintained by the general support of the nominations of Republican Conventions; for unity is indispensible, and unity would be lost if there were a dozen Conventions and Candidates. How can a man claim to be a Republican who bolts a regular party nomination?

Foote, ex Confederate Senator, and the implacable foe of Jefferson Davis, has made this anatomical discovery, on examining the physical condition of the Democratic party: "There's something the matter with its vitals!"—Exchange. Diagnosis. And what is the matter can't recover.

THE STATE CONVENTION.

We present a synopsis of the proceedings of the State Convention in another part of this week's paper. It will be seen that a sound platform was adopted and a good ticket nominated. The Convention was the largest and most harmonious that ever assembled at the State Capitol. The enemy were surprised to see so many of the ablest and best men from all parts of the State appearing as delegates. The truth is, the time has come in the history of North Carolina when prosecution and social ostracism have ceased to influence men from expressing their honest political opinions and from allying themselves to the party they know to be in harmony with the government—the party of Progress and Union and Liberty. That victory will perch upon our banner in August next we feel assured.

SENATOR TRUMBULL.

Senator TRUMBULL is soured because he has failed to be the recognized leader in the Senate, and he is crazed by the mad delirium of Presidency—on—the—brain. Hence his active participation in the movement now looking Cincinnati ward. It is amusing to see how the Tribune lauds and praises him. We have not forgotten how when, four years ago, he voted against the impeachment of ANDREW JOHNSON, it warned him that his vote was "an act of treason only equaled by that of Benedict Arnold," and declared that the issue for each Senator was "Impeachment or infamy." Nay further: the Tribune went so far as to intimate that it believed TRUMBULL'S vote was influenced by money,—that in addition to being a traitor he was a perjurer and bribe taker. Not one of these accusations has the Tribune ever retracted, and yet this is the "Reformer" it would have honest Republicans to follow? Is Father HORACE in his dotage?

TRUE.

"That the Democratic party in Missouri is, and of right ought to be, disorganized; that it should not be reorganized for a conduct of the approaching canvass; that its powers of usefulness, both as a national and a local instrument, are gone, and that its place ought to be occupied by a new party."

That this is true and that it is sound doctrine cannot be denied. It is as applicable to the nation as to that single State. And yet how indignant it makes the fuglemen of the party all over the country. They know just as well as anybody that the Democracy is moribund—must die, but they keep whistling, hoping that through the aid of the "Liberal Republicans" something may turn up for their benefit.

RULE OR RUIN.

Rule or ruin is the motto of a few ambitious men, who have been elevated to power and influence through the Republican party. When they can dictate and have things their own way they are the most radical of Radicals; but when the people enter a protest they bolt. Past services may entitle a man to respect, but they cannot save him from the fatal consequences which are sure to follow the betrayal of a trust. BENEDICT ARNOLD, as a soldier, won the gratitude and admiration of the American people. As a traitor, he became the hated outcast, scorned by his former friends, and neglected by the enemy he sought to serve. Neither his loyal wounds, or his glorious military record could save him from the detestation of a liberty loving people. Let "bolters" beware! Their course is only calculated to betray the party into the hands of the Democracy.

OPEN TO ALL.

The avenues to position, honor and wealth are open to all. It depends entirely upon what a man's work is, upon what he likes to do, and what he can do well. There is no compulsion in this country to bind a boy down to the trade of his ancestors. The son of a coal heaver need not carry basket and shovel. The itinerant pedlar may rise, in the second generation, to the control of great corporations and the highest position in the State. Or from the cobbler's bench—as in the case of Senator WILSON—one may mount to the Senatorial chair. He may do what he best can; the measure of his usefulness is the only limitation in his career.

WILL STAND BY THE NOMINEE.

True Republicans cannot be seduced from their party allegiance. Marplots may concoct mischievous schemes and patch up bolting tickets but the Republican masses will stand by their regular nominee. They have an unwavering attachment to their principles. They cannot be diverted for any personal reasons, nor have they any sympathy with the personal crusades of disappointed men. The defection of no leader, however eminent, will beguile them into any desertion of the banner which they have so long followed.

It is proposed to make, at Cincinnati on Wednesday next, a new party, young, fresh as the morning glory, and free from entangling alliances with the past, not out of new men, but of the refuse and out-casts of every organization, living, dead or dying, in the country. To thus group together a set of old reprobates and give them new names, is like putting new wine into old bottles, or seeking to make a sweet smiling bouquet out of old and withered flowers.

Those who manifest jealousy of the activity, energy and thrift of the "Yankee" staud in their own light. It is a Yankee characteristic to be up and doing, to make things move, to go ahead. He makes busines for the mechanic, gives employment to the laborer, creates a market for the farmer and increases the trade of the merchant. As he benefits himself all his neighbors are likewise benefited.

Senator WILSON made a good point in his late New York speech when he met the charges of the "Liberal Republicans" that the Philadelphia Convention would be one of "office holders" by asking whether the Cincinnatti Convention would not be one of office seekers!

PLATFORM OF NORTH CAROLINA REPUBLICANS.

A Good and Strong Ticket nominated.

ONE THOUSAND DELEGATES PRESENT.

At 3 o'clock P. M., the Convention was called to order.

It was then moved that the Convention proceed to ballot for a nominee for Governor. Carried.

Before the Convention to ballot, General Rufus Barringer, from Committee on Credentials, made a report announcing eighty counties represented. The report was adopted.

Hon. Tod R. Caldwell, Hon. Thomas Settle, Hon. O. H. Dockery, Judge G. W. Logan, and Maj. W. A. Smith, were put in nomination for Governor.

Judge Settle, in a brief speech, moved to make the nomination unanimous, and was seconded by Col. O. H. Dockery, J. M. Justice as Judge Logan's friend, and Maj. W. A. Smith.

The motion was then put and carried and the nomination was made unanimous amid the most tremendous applause.

On motion, the following Committee were appointed to wait on Gov. Caldwell and inform him of his nomination and request his presence on the rostrum:

The President appointed Thos. Settle, O. H. Dockery, W. A. Smith, J. H. Harris and Marcus Erwin.

During the absence of the Committee, Mr. W. S. Ball from the Committee on resolutions reported the following resolutions which were unanimously adopted:—

The Republicans of North Carolina in Convention assembled do

Resolve 1. The platform and principles of the Republican party of North Carolina, as heretofore enunciated in its Conventions, are hereby re-affirmed, and events have proved that their practical enforcement is essential to the welfare of the country, and to the maintainence of the rights, interests and liberties of the people.

2. That the Administration of President Grant meets with our hearty and unqualified approval, and our delegates to the National Republican Convention, to assemble at Philadelphia on the 5th day of June next, are instructed to vote for his re-nomination to the Presidency of the United States.

3. That the Republican party of North Carolina favors as rapid a dimunition and as early an extinction of all internal revenue taxation as the exigencies of the Government will permit, for the reason that the details of its collection are necessarily offensive, and in many respects, oppressive to the people.

4. That all internal revenue taxes on the distillation of fruits ought to be abolished.

5. That the Republican party of North Carolina recommend to the Congress of the United States the passage of a general amnesty bill, and the adoption of all necessary measures for the enforcement and protection of the civil and political rights of all classes of American citizens.

6. That in a free and representative government, we recognize the paramount obligation to provide efficiently for the general education of the people, and we favor such legislation as will accomplish that end; that we respectfully recommend and ask of the national government, such aid, by the provision of a public fund, or the donation of public lands to the purposes of establishing schools in the several States, as will secure to the masses of the people of all classes the benefits of a liberal education.

7. That we fully endorse the acts of Congress, passed to secure equal rights and protection to all citizens of the United States, in the several States; and we respectfully recommend a continuance of the present laws and the adoption of such further legislation as will more certainly secure to the citizens, full and practical enjoyment of all their rights, privileges and immunities.

8. In the opinion of this Convention, the consolidation into one act its numerous propositions to amend the State Constitution, endeavored to force upon the people a false issue, and to coerce them into the adoption of obnoxious amendments, and inasmuch as all these propositions must be submitted to the next Legislature for ratification, before the same can be referred to the people, therefore,

Resolved, 1. That the amendments proposed as a whole do not meet the approval of the Republican party, because their adoption would subvert essential principles of the existing Constitution.

2. That Republicans can endorse a portion of said amendments and the next General Assembly may adopt such of them as shall seem best for the general welfare.

9. That we cordially endorse the administration of Gov. Caldwell, and recognize the fact that our people may rely upon his firmness in upholding their rights, and we heartily thank him for resisting the revolutionary purposes of those who designed to deprive the citizen of the protection afforded by the State Constitution.

10. That forgetful of personal preference we pledge ourselves to support earnestly and without reserve, the candidates presented by this Convention, believing that in unity alone is strength and that principles are more important than men, to the Republicans to North Carolina.

The Committee to wait on Gov. Caldwell appeared, and Judge Settle introduced His Excellency as our Governor for the next four years.

Gov. Caldwell accepted the nomination in a spirited speech, in which he arraigned the Democracy for their many crimes. He was frequently cheered and loudly applauded.

THURSDAY'S SESSION.

Resolved, That the Republicans of North Carolina desire that the law be impartially carried out in the case of Hon. Joseph C. Abbott, now pending in the Senate of the United States, and if it should be found that he is legally entitled to the seat, it would not only be gratifying to them, but in their opinion best subserve the interests of the State and be in accordance with the wishes of a majority of the people that he be seated; and such result would be a merited rebuke to the spirit of contempt and defiance of the national canstitution manifested by a majority of the members of the last legislature.

Hon. Thomas Settle nominated James Reid, of Franklin.

The nomination was carried by acclamation.

Resolved, That we endorse him in the past and shall ever cherish our love for him in the future; and we have a confident hope and trust that the time is not distant when he shall return to his native State again to battle for the Union, for equality before the law, and for the progressive principles of Republicanism.

Mr. Geo. M. Arnold introduced the following resolution which was unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That the Republican party of North Carolina pledges itself in the future as in the past, to inaugurate such measures as tend to the elevation of all men, especially that large class of our People who earn their daily bread by the sweat of their brow—the toiling masses—the bone and sinew of the country;—that this class of our People, bearing as they do, their portion of the burdens of the State and National Governments, should enjoy a just proportion of the honors and emoluments of those governments.

A motion was made and carried that the Committee on resolutions be authorized to prepare a plan of organization and report as early as possible.

Hons. J. C. Abbott, J. W. Etheridge, Thomas Settle and Rev. J. W. Hood.

The report was adopted.

The committee on resolutions reported the following plan of organization which was adopted:

Resolved, That hereafter the organization of the Republican party of North Carolina shall be as follows:

1. A State Executive Committee of eleven members, to be appointed by the President of the Convention shall be ex officio one of the members of such Committee.

2. A Congressional District Committee for each District, to be composed of one member from each county, to be appointed by the Convention.

3. A County Executive Committee to be composed of one member from each township, to be appointed by the County Convention.

4. A Committee of five for each township, to be appointed by the people.

Resolved, That the present organization shall continue to exist until the new one shall be effected.

Resolved, That the representation in the county Conventions shall be in accordance with the plan of organization of the party heretofore adopted.

Thanks were tendered the President, the several Committees and other officers of the Convention for the prompt and harmonious manner with which they discharged the business of the Convention.

SUPPLEMENTAL CIVIL SERVICE REPORT.

The executive order published yesterday authorizing modifications to the rules heretofore announced, and stating that fidelity and diligence will be required of officers in every branch of the civil service, forbidding political assessments and etc., appears to be well received by the general public.

The President accords the right of the elective franchise and the privilege of participating in politics by all persons in or out of office and declares that honesty and efficiency, not political activity, will determine the tenure of office. No one can find fault with this announcement of the position which the executive has held since his inauguration, whatever rival interests may say to the contrary.

"The Regulations appended to the order make some important changes in the original rules of the Commission. Among these are placed first among the requirement of candidacy to appointment proof of fidelity to the Union and the constitution; second character. These conditions precedent to designations for appointment have been specially and freely advocated in this correspondence. The regulations show that the Commission have, in their reconsideration of the subject, looked to the requirements of our own country rather than those of monarchies in Europe.

On the whole it is perhaps as good a system for making improvements in the management of appointments to subordinate officers as we have a right to expect. Many of the palpable evils of the former report have been so modified that there will be comparatively little opposition to the executive of the reform under the new regulations by those who earnestly believe in reforming the service at all. At least a trial will doubtless be made, and, as in every reformation of past customs, such difficulties as present themselves will either be surmounted by the new regulations or by new modifications of them. There is no doubt of the earnest desire of the Commission and of the President to meet all reasonable demands for improving our present system, and if it does not work to perfection, the will must be taken for the deed, and clamor on this subject must end until the test of experience shall decide upon the efficiency of the new regulations by showing the fruits of their applications.

THE LOOMIS AERIAL TELEGRAPH.

Some friends of science here are expressing anxiety to see that the proposed corporation for experimenting in aerial telegraphy be favorably reported by the Committee having the bill in charge, and passed by Congress. It will cost the Government nothing and if it is opposed by other telegraphic interests, that it is the best reason why it should receive legislature supports. Few pretend to know anything of the merits of telegraphing without wire or cable, but whether it can be accomplished or not, the fact that learned scientists have laid down general principles showing it to be possible at least, makes it the true interest of progress that it should not be allowed to drag through two sessions of Congress without being even reported. If unsuccessful, it costs nothing to any but the parties who believe in it, and successful, it is the greatest triumph of science over time and space that the world has not discovered. Let it have a chance to work out the faith of its author, Dr. Mahlon Loomis, and his disciples in electrical science. Will the Committee rise and explain?

ANOTHER LUCRETIA BORGIA.

The Leesburg, Va., murder case bids fair to out do in horrible detail the celebrated Wharton trial. From the statement made by Mrs. Lloyd, the alleged murderess, her servants and others, it appears that she is charged with the terrible crime of poisoning her husband, an aged aunt and four beautiful children by administering arsenic, on which charge she has been lodged in jail to await the action of the Grand Jury. The verdict of the Jury was based upon the circumstances of the sudden manner in which all the deceased were carried off, that a druggist sold her arsenic previous to the death of her several children, and that in the stomach of her last daughter Prof. Young of Baltimore found a grain and a half of arsenic.

THE MORSE MEMORIAL.

The memorial services held in the Hall of the House of Representatives on Tuesday evening last, in honor of the great invention of the Telegraph, was a grand success throughout. The speaking was admirable and appropriate and the kindly words which continued to arrive during the services from all parts of the world telegraph received and written out from its speaker's desk was an interesting feature of the great occasion. At 9 P. M. an answer to a message sent to London, England, was received dated at 2 A. M. the next morning evidencing the difference in time as shown by instantaneous transmission of the message and reply more than 3000 miles, and across the Ocean cable. I noticed among the audience Dr. Mahlon Loomis who asks of Congress an act of incorporation which he assures me will perform just such wonderful duty as that of the present system of telegraphing, without wire cable, or other means than an elevated stratum of air. As wonders never cease, who can deny with more certainty that he will fail than did almost a majority of Congres deny what Morse predicted thirty years ago.

Dare County N. C. April 23rd 1872.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

The time set apart for holding the Republican Convention in the first Congressional District is the 23rd of May next. Will Dare County be represented, or will she be excluded as she was at the State Convention? The Chairman of our Executive Committee failed to call a County Convention and appoint delegates to the State Convention, consequently Dare was not represented. Will this be the case in the District Convention?

The time is short, but our Chairman has not much else to do. So we bid him be up and doing—call Township and County Conventions, so that the people may appoint delegates to represent them, and a new Executive Committee who will pay proper attention to their political interests.

REPUBLICAN.

The Hon. Moses B. Corwin, father of the late distinguished Orator, John A. Corwin, died last week at his home, Urbana, Ohio, in his 87th year. He was a man of note in Ohio years ago, and represented a district in Congress several terms. Beside John, he had another son, the Hon. Jacob Corwin, surviving.

"Father, forgive me, and forget that you ever had a daughter. (Signed) Ella.

"Text for my funeral: 'Judge not that ye be not judged.'"

The Pittsburg Gazette says: Judge David Davis is a great man, a very great man; so great, indeed, that although he has a seat on the bench, the chair he occupies in the Supreme Court of the United States had to be made especially for him. This chair, however, is not like the Presidential chair, and consequently it is scarcely possible that he will be able to get into that.

☞We understand that the Congressional Republican Conference of this District will be held at Plymouth the 23rd of May.

☞A cotemporary informs us that a romantic couple not far from his town named their infant daughter CARESSER. That was about eighteen years ago, and the boys are at it now!

☞Rt. Rev. THOMAS ATKINSON, Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Diocese of North Carolina, will make his official visit here to day. He will preach in the Episcopal Church at 11 o'clock A. M., and 8 o'clock P. M.

☞The Saw and Grist Mill at Camden C. H. has been purchased by our townsman GEO. BAKER. It is being repaired by DAVID SPENCER one of the best practical Mill Wrights of this country.

☞We ask for no office; we want none. We are a Republican—always have been, always expect to be. We want to see the party succeed. It can only do so by standing up to regular party usages and sustaining the regular nominees.

☞"Forward, onward" is the watchwords of the age. All around us there is improvement and progress. We desire that in its full spirit it should extend to and embrace Elizabeth City We want no standing still, much less any going back. Forward, march!

☞Our young friend THOMAS GASKINS has laid a copy of the Richmond Enquirer on our table, dated April 18th 1862. It was the leading organ published at the Capital of the Rebel Confederacy. In view of the accomplished facts of history it is amusing to read what a false prophet the Richmond editor was.

☞We had hoped that when the excitement of the hour had passed, calm reason would resume its sway and the bolter's candidate for Mayor would withdraw. But he still stubbornly persists in his disorganizing course, and no matter how much it may jeopardize the Senatorial and Congressional Districts declares that he will remain in the field. And this is the man who has prated about his Republicanism! Of course the Democracy are jubilant. How he is gratifying and pleasing them.

☞His Excellency Gov. CALDWELL has appointed Hon. J. W. ALBERTSON Superior Court Judge of this District, to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Hon. C. C. POOL. Mr. ALBERTSON is a gentleman of fine mental powers, is an able lawyer and we have no doubt will make a good Judge. He is now holding Court at Edenton. The vacancy in the Solicitorship has been filled by the appointment of WILLIS BAGLEY, Esq., of Hertford.

☞A lady correspondent from the country wants to know the meaning of the "Dolly Varden" dress. It is an over dress nearly similar to a polonaise; it is used as a house dress and is becoming very fashionable. Dolly Varden is a character in Dickens' novel of Barnaby Rudge. She was a locksmith's daughter, a lively coquette, and the garment now named after her is a revival of the style worn in England at the period the story is laid. Whether the fortunate young lady after whom the fashionable dress of this summer is named was given to wearing materials of a startling loud color and pattern is not stated. Sometime ago, however, an inspired modiste rechristened what was then known as "cretonnes," and called them "Dolly Varden." The name first confined to chintzes, but it spread to other materials, and now whole costumes, whose like was never seen on sea or shore, are named after the charming and coquettish little daughter of a London locksmith.

☞The Odd Fellows of this City will hold their anniversay celebration to morrow. An address will be delivered in the Baptist Church at 11 o'clock A. M. by Maj. SEATON GALES of Raleigh.

☞Mr. J. P. GRANDY, Business Manager of the Concert given last week, reports the amount taken in to have been $139,47. The expenses were $50,47, leaving a balance of $89, which he has handed over to the Ladie's Aid Society, which they acknowledge in a Card this week.

☞No man has worked harder for the Republican party than Mr. GRANDY. None have made more personal or pecuniary sacrifices to advance its interests. At the call of the party he has always marched to the front and engaged in the thickest of the fight. He did not seek the candidacy for Mayor, but his friends urged the nomination upon him. He was regularly and fairly nominated. Every true man will support him.

☞The man who is a Republican so long as the party gives him all the offices he wants will never do to tie to. Give us rather the man whose principles are not graduated by the amount of bread and butter he receives—one who is a Republican from heart, who is ready and willing to go for the nominee of a Convention no matter who is placed at the head of the ticket as standard bearer. Such a man never consorts with the Democracy nor intrigues with the enemy to defeat the regular ticket. Never!

☞At the meeting of the Farmer's Club on Saturday the Chairman announced the appointment of GEORGE P. POOL, GEORGE W. CHARLES and Dr. WM. UNDERWOOD as the Executive Committee. The special business of this Committee for the present is to take steps towards procuring a Charter, report a Constitution and By Laws, and ascertain on what terms an eligible site for Fair Grounds may be obtained. Additional subscriptions to Stock was reported. The subject of Drainage was discussed. The theme selected for discussion at the next meeting is Manuring. The Club meets in the Court House on every Saturday at 3 o'clock P. M. There should be a large attendance at the next meeting.

☞It is the right of every tax payer, as it is the duty of every good citizen, to take a part in primary meetings and nominating Conventions as well as at elections. Those who neglect to do this have no right to complain if bad or incompetent men are placed upon a ticket. They did not do their part to prevent it. Hence we insist that it is the duty of those who feel an interest in good government and a fair and just administration of the law to take a part in nominating Conventions and use their influence in securing good men for office. Actuated by this desire, and feeling its necessity, the leading, thinking Republicans of this City, white and colored, took a more active part in the recent Convention than usual and as the result an unexceptional ticket has been presented before the people. Under the administration of these men we will not only have good order but prosperity and progress.

Prince Hubert and Princess Margherita visited the Prince and Princess of Wales in great state in Rome, on the 24th ult., in their grand carriages with the scarlet liveries and wigs. Princess Margherita wore the Italian colors in her dress—green velvet, a white bonnet, with a rose on one side.

A man named Daniel Beall, living near Barton, Allegheny county, Pa., suddenly disappeared from his home, and at the time was thought to have been murdered. A few days a go it was discovered that he was working at a place hardly twenty miles distant, totally ignorant of the excitement his sudden disappearonce had caused.

THE TRUE GREUNDS OF CONFIDENCE.—Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of Hostettr's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. I is no the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by any human device, but is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy district that resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic, as a poeventive, escape periodical fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect this precantion, are prostrated by the disease how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it ss seen that obstinate cases of dyspepia, of liver complaint, of, constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility yield to the operation of the famous remedy how can even incredulity itself withhold its endorsement? Eye witnesses of the salutary effects of the litters to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness, to its extraordinary medicinal properties, are enthusiastic in its praise. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficient operations.

CELEBRATED
Horse and Cattle Powders.

This preparation, long and favorably known, will thoroughly re-invigorate broken down and low-spirited horses, by strengthening and cleansing the stomach and intestines.

It is a sure preventive of all diseases incident to this animal, such as LUNG FEVER, GLANDERS, YELLOW WATER, HEAVES, COUGHS, DISTEMPER, FEVERS, FOUNDER, LOSS OF APPETITE AND VITAL ENERGY, &c. Its use improves the wind, increases the appetite—gives a smooth and glossy skin—and transforms the miserable skeleton into a fine-looking and spirited horse.

To keepers of Cows this preparation is invaluable. It is a sure preventive against Rinderpest, Hollow Horn, etc. It has been proven by actual experiment to increase the quantity of milk and cream twenty per cent. and make the butter firm and sweet. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much faster.

In all diseases of Swine, such as Coughs, Ulcers in the Lungs, Liver, &c., this article acts as a specific. By putting from one-half a paper to a paper in a barrel of swill the above diseases will be eradicated entirely prevented. If given in time, a certain preventive and cure for the Hog Cholera.

writer in the Canadian Poultry Chronicle, gives the following as his experience with the laying qualities of game ens and ducks:

"There are few fowls more prolific than game, and where there is a good wide range of any kind, no fowls will prove more profitable, the black-breasted red variety, being the best. They eat little in proportion to larger fowls, and are very good layers; but they cannot be kept in close confinement on account of their fighting propensities. No fancier that can find a suitable place in his poultry yard but should have a few ducks. Their appetite is such, that almost any kind of food will supply them; they pick up the waste food left by other fowls, and grow fat on it. In the barnyard, in gardens, and on pasture lands, they are alike useful and beneficial. There are three kinds which now stands high among breeders, namely: The Aylesbury, which is pure white; the Rouen, which in color resembles the white Cayuga which are pure black, except occasional white spots on the breast."

OF VALUABLE

NORTH CAROLINA LANDS,

FOR SALE BY

GEORGE D. POOL.

Real Estate Agent,

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C.

In presenting my list of lands and other properties for sale, I would say that no section of the United States offers such inducements for capitalists and emigrants, as this section of North Carolina. In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility and durability of soil, no section can equal.

A railroad will soon be built from Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

A Steam Saw and Grist Mill in the town of Nixonton 8 miles from E. City. This Mill has a fine wharf and store attached on deep navigable water, the engine is 10 horse power, a dall in good order. Adjoining the mill property is 40 acres of fine land on the River, with three houses, all for $1200. Near the same is a good two story dwelling and 13 acres of land for $2,000, and a good one story dwelling, with one acre of land for $300.

A valuable site for a hotel at Nag's Head, 40 miles from Elizabeth City, and 50 miles from Edenton. This is situated immediately on the Ocean, and is a famous Summer resort for invalids, and those seeking health, comfort, and amusements during the summer months. It is in direct communication by steamboats and railroad with all parts of North Carolina, Virginia, and the North; and is equal in natural advantages to Newport, or Cape May. Visitors flock to this famous summer resort by hundreds and thousands, and a large amount of money can be made by a hotel. A charter has been obtained from the Legislature of N. C., for a joint stock company to build the hotel. There is now an old hotel on the spot, which could be cheaply repaired and bought for $3,000. This hotel, though imperfectly kept, cleared the proprietor last season, over $3,000. For a man or a company, having some capital, this is one of the finest chances to make money at hotel keeping to be found anywhere. The early attention of the public is invited to this property.

A fine steam saw and grist mill at Hertford, the county seat of Perquimans County, N. C., 18 miles from Elizabeth City. This mill has a fifty horse power engine, now in good running, two pairs of best French burr stones, and two upright saws. The house has a brick basement, and the building is large and in good order. There is one and a half acres of land belonging to this property, and a good two story dwelling, and other out-houses. The section of country adjacent abounds in the finest yellow pine, cypress, ash, poplar, and other valuable timber. This property originally cost $15,000, and is now offered at forced sale for the low price of $3,500, $7,00, cash, and the balance in six equal instalments, six months apart each with interest.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has good buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

A store at South Mills, in Camden county, 20 miles from E. City, and 20 miles from Norfolk, lying on the canal where steamers pass daily. A fine chance for merchandize. Store is large with dwelling above containing six rooms, is in first rate order, has office, kitchen, dairy, and other necessary outhouses. Goods to the amt. of $50,000 per annum can be sold here, and at large profits. A splended stand for a country retail store. Price $2,500—one third cash, balance in one and two years.

A valuable tract of land in Camden county, at South Mills, on the Dismal Swamp Canal, lying on the canal for two miles, containing over 900 acres of land—two-thirds cleared, and in a fine state of cultivation, with good buildings, &c.; balance in valuable timber. Price $12,000, one-third cash, balance in one and two years, interest from January, 1871. This is a valuable farm for corn, wheat, and vegetables, and being midway between Elizabeth City and Norfolk, and located where steamers pass by the door daily, is a desirable and cheap property.

A fine farm of 600 acres within six miles of E. City, one mile from navigable water, and the best cotton farm in the State. It is also well adapted to raising corn and wheat. This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. A little over one-half of the land is cleared, and the balance is covered with the finest yellow pine, poplar, ash and other timber. Price $30 per acre—one-third cash, balance in one and two years with interest. Title reserved.

Sixteen houses and lots in Elizabeth City, with good dwellings, out-houses, &c. Prices and terms reasonable.

A valuable farm in Perquimans county, N. C. near navigable water. Has a fine dwelling-house with ten rooms, in splended order, with splended barns and stables—all in first rate order. The farm is very productive in corn, oats, wheat, cotton and clover. It is one of the finest farms in the State and is now in good cultivation, contains 585 acres of land, about three-fourths cleared and under cultivation. Price $10,000, one-third cash January 1, next balance in two equal annual instalments with interest at the rate of six per cent.

A farm of 370 acres 8 miles from town by water, and 12 miles by land, is offered for sale for $10,000 in easy payments. This tract of land lies immediately on the River which is 4 miles wide and washes the farm its whole length on one side, and a branch of the River one mile wide, binds it on one end. The land is well adapted to raising corn, wheat, cotton, oats, peas, &c., lies high and dry, and is susceptible of the highest improvement. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

NATURAL FISH GUANO.

I have on hand a quantity of Pure FISH GUANO in its natural state which I will deliver on board of any vessel at Oregon Inlet, N. C., for $25 per ton; or I will deliver it at any landing for $30 per ton.

Considering that the Guano of Commerce costs from $50 to $60 per ton, and so much of it being adulterated, farmers can readily see that it is to their advantage to purchase the purer article I offer them at such reduced rates. Orders sent to me at Roanoke Island will receive prompt attention.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE LAND AND LUMBER COMPANY having a large amount of Real Estate of their own to dispose of, and their business having increased to such an extent, they think it prudent to decline acting further as Commission Agents for the sale of lands belonging to others. They will however be glad at all times to furnish every facility to parties coming to Elizabeth City with a desire to look at the country and make purchases if they find it to their interest to do so.

The following list of property, owned by the Company, is offered for sale on the most reasonable terms. Their object now is to acquire a larger monied capital for the purpose of further developing their unimproved lands and carrying out their original design of increasing the Commerce and General Trade of Elizabeth City.

As there are others in the Commission Business, parties are referred to their advertisement for further information.

ELIZABETH CITY.

The following desirable list of Properties in Elizabeth City are offered at very reduced prices for cash or on time payments at rates which make any of them excellent investments for capitalists. We feel confident that this City is destined to become a large place and property will advance rapidly. Emigration is now tending Southernward and the feeling is in universal favor toward Elizabeth City.

A large two-story dwelling known as the Parsonage, with fine double Piazza, front and back, large out kitchen, stables, carriage house, with 17 acres of ground well enclosed. This ground is all within the corporation of the City, and is well situated to lay out in building lots and make out of it ten fold the price asked for it.

A two-story dwelling containing ten rooms, 10,000 gallon cistern and all necessary out-houses, with large lot. Situated on Main Street. A Vacant Lot no better located and not so large as this was sold recently for $1600 cash.

A large brick store house and wharf situate on Water street; in E. City, comprising three lots with 400 feet of water front, permanently wharfed for the accommodation of large vessels. There is erected on these lots a large two-story brick building, 50 by 80 feet, well fitted up for a wholesale or retail trade at present occupied by the "Yankee Store."

A large wood store on west side of Water street 36 by 60, two stories high, being one of the best stands on Water street for merchandizing.

A House and Lot on Riverside Avenue. House 20ft front by 50 ft deep. Containing eight rooms with Pantry and Cellar, all well finished, modern style, and having all necessary out buildings. The lot contains a front of 400 ft, and would be a good location for a large shop or foundry as one whole side fronts on the water.

Also a large number of Wharf Lots, Mill Lots and Vacant Lots at very low prices, some of which are enumerated below. The Wharf Lots are 200ft deep and will be sold to any size desired along the River. Among them are some most eligible situations for Store Houses, Mills and Manufactories of any kind as there is a fine harbor immediately in front of them, having 30ft of water, sufficient for vessels of any capacity. Along Pennsylvania Avenue are offered some of the finest and choicest lots, for dwellings in town at prices varying according to location. This will be the finest street in town, is 80 feet wide, size of Lot 100ft front by 200ft deep. There are now a number of first class residences being erected on this street. Immediately in the vicinity of these Lots the Company have erected a large Planing Mill, Sash, Blind and Door Factory at a cost of near $20,000 and also their Saw Mill at a cost of near $15,000. That now is the proper time to invest in those Lots there can be no doubt, as they will double in value in a very short time. Lots not near so good as these, are now selling in other parts of the City at more than double the price asked for these.

VACANT LOTS.

Lots Nos. 150, 155, 158, 161, 163, 165, 167, 170. 172. 175, 178, 180, 182. 185, 187. 190 193, 195, 198 and 200, situate on Pennsylvania avenue, in the new extension of Elizabeth City, all choice lots, intended for the better class of residences. Size of lots 100 feet front by 200 feet deep. Price varying, according to location, from $100 to $1000.

TOWN LOTS.

Lots Nos. 250, 253, 255, 256, 258, 261, 263, 266, 267, 268. 271, 283, 285. 287, 288, 289, 291, 296, 299 and 300, situated on various Streets in the new extension of Elizabeth City, size of lots 50 feet front by 100 feet deep, at prices varying from $25 to $100.

MILL LOTS.

Four Mill-Lots situated on Knobb's Creek, so that logs can be taken from the creek to the mill. These lots have 200 feet each of water front, and over 600 feet deep to Mill street, and are choice sites. The purchaser will also have the right of storage for logs in the boom.

PASQUOTANK COUNTY.

The Land and Lumber Company also offer for sale, one thousand acres of their timbered land along the Main Road leading from Elizabeth City to Hertford and Edenton, Said land heavily wooded, soil very rich and about four miles from Elizabeth City. This land will be sold in lots to suit purchasers and at the low price of ten dollars per acre.

They also offer a tract of three thousand acres in Lots to suit purchasers, near the Pasquotank River, ten miles from Elizabeth City and three miles from South Mills. This land is heavily set with wood and also has upon it a vast amount of saw timber, and has a most excellent soil. This is a fine location for a small Colony. There is now a Public Road running directly through it. This tract is offered at the low price of eight dollars per acre if sold to one party, or at only a fraction more if divided into small lots.

The Company will also sell their farm of 150 acres two miles from Elizabeth City. 125 acres cleared and under good cultivation, well fenced, having upon it two dwelling houses, one new and the necessary out buildings wanted on a farm, and will be sold on very reasonable terms.

Also another farm one mile from Elizabeth City containing one hundred acres, between thirty and forty acres cleared and under cultivation, the balance is now being cut off and is nearly ready to be cleared up and cultivated. This property is very desirable being so near the City though for reasons first given will be sold at a very low price.

We have a finely timbered tract of land situated on the Albemarle Sound twenty miles from Elizabeth City, containing 124 acres. Good timber land bordering on the water is valuable both for wood as well as saw timber as water trausportation affords a good margin for wood, say one dollar per cord. This will also make good farm land—will be sold for one thousand dollars.

Also one other tract of land containing 154 acres situated immediately on the Pasquotank River ten miles from Elizabeth City, valuable for wood, and is excellent farming lands would be sold for six dollars per acre.

GATES COUNTY.

The Land & Lumber Company have a tract of 350 acres of timbered land one half mile from Chowan River and three miles from Winton the county seat of Hertford county. This body of land is well timbered and will be sold at the low price of three dollars per acre.

MILLIONS Bear Testimony to their Wonderful Curative Effects. They are not a vile Fancy Drink, made of Poor Rum, Whiskey, Proof Spirits and Refuse Liquors doctored, spiced and sweetened to please the taste, called "Tonics," "Appetizers," "Restorers," &c., that lead the tippler on to drunkenness and ruin, but are a true medicine, made from the native roots and herbs of California, free from all Alcoholic Stimulants. They are the GREAT BLOOD PURIFIER and a LIFE GIVING PRINCIPLE, a perfect Renovator and Invigorator of the System, carrying off all poisonous matter and restoring the blood to a healthy condition. No person can take these Bitters according to directions, and remain long unwell, provided their bones are not destroyed by mineral poison or other means, and the vital organs wasted beyond the point of repair.

They are a Gentle Purgative as well as a Tonic, possessing also, the peculiar merit of acting as a powerful agent in relieving Congestion or Inflammation of the Liver, and all the Visceral Organs.

FOR FEMALE COMPLAINTS, whether in young or old, married or single, at the dawn of womanhood or at the turn of life, these Tonic Bitters have no equal.

For Inflammatory and Chronic Rheumatism and Gout, Dyspepsia or Indigestion, Bilious, Remittent and Intermittent Fevers, Diseases of the Blood, Liver, Kidneys and Bladder, these Bitters have been most successful. Such Diseases are caused by Vitiated Blood, which is generally produced by derangement of the Digestive Organs.

DYSPEPSIA OR INDIGESTION, Headache, Pain in the Shoulders, Coughs, Tightness of the Chest, Dizziness, Sour Eructations of the Stomach, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Bilious Attacks, Palpitation of the Heart, Inflammation of the Lungs, Pain in the regions of the Kidneys, and a hundred other painful symptoms are the offsprings of Dyspepsia.

They Invigorate the Stomach and stimulate the torpid Liver and Bowels, which render them of unequaled efficacy in cleansing the blood of all impurities, and imparting new life and vigor to the whole system.

FOR SKIN DISEASES, Eruptions, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Blotches, Spots, Pimples, Pustules, Boils, Carbuncles, Ring-worms, Scald Head, Sore Eyes, Erysipelas, Itch, Scurfs, Discolorations of the Skin, Humors and Diseases of the Skin, of whatever name or nature, are literally dug up and carried out of the System in a short time by the use of these Bitters. One bottle in such cases will convince the most incredulous of their curative effects.

Cleanse the Vitiated Blood whenever you find its impurities bursting through the skin in Pimples, Eruptions, or Sores; cleanse it when you find it obstructed and sluggish in the veins; cleanse it when it is foul, and your feelings will tell you when. Keep the blood pure, and the health of the system will follow.

Pin, Tape, and other Worms, lurking in the system of so many thousands, are effectually destroyed and removed. Says a distinguished physiologist, there is scarcely an individual upon the face of the earth whose body is exempt from the presence of worms. It is not upon the healthy elements of the body that worms exist, but upon the diseased humors and slimy deposits that breed these living monsters of disease. No system of Medicine, no vermifuges, no anthelmintics, will free the system from worms like these Bitters.
